Editor's note

Thank you for glancing through this catalog! It is a supplement to the christmas edition of Ota magazine so, if you'd like, please check it out too!

Unfortunately, this catalog isn't a detailed, comprehensive list of everything comiket has to offer. It's a shame but Ota magazine doesn't have the human resources to achieve such a feat...

As such, this catalog will try to bring across as faithful a general look at everything each day of comiket has to offer.

The content will be divided according to the comiket day it will be on sale, into worksafe and not worksafe content. Each doujinshi will have a short description detailing the content the work contains.

Pixiv links with previews will be added whenever possible. In the interest of keeping things short, instead of adding full links, there are illustration and artist id's instead.

For artist profile pages, add the corresponding number to the following link:

<http://www.pixiv.net/member.php?id=>

For comic previews, add the corresponding number to the following link:

Without further ado, let's comiket!

Final words

Jeez! I got to do just like a true doujin artist and published this right at the very end of the day! I had to wait for some artists to publish their previews so the catalog wouldn't be full of circle cuts instead.

I tried as much as I could to present a representative sample of everything comiket has to offer, but the dominance of touhou, kantai collection and touken ranbo is undeniable. I tried to add as little of those to this catalog as possible. I also did my best not to let personal likings to affect the creation of this catalog.

See you next comiket! Or, see you in the next edition of Ota fanzine!
